The Montrose Regional Library Announces the Kick-Off of NEA Big Read: Montrose

by Tina Meiners,
Head of Youth & Outreach Services

The Montrose Library will launch its National Endowment for the Arts Big Read program exploring The Call of the Wild by Jack London with a kick-off party on September 18, 2021 from 11am to 1pm. NEA Big Read: Montrose is presented in partnership with the County of Montrose, the Black Canyon of Gunnison National Park, KVNF Community Radio, and the Ute Indian Museum, with support from the National Endowment for the Arts.

The kick-off event will feature a presentation of the first copies of the title book to our local county commissioners as well as free copies to the public. Join us for family fun with food, games, activities, prize raffles, and informational booths from collaborating organizations.

Montrose is one of 61 communities nationwide participating in the 2021-2022 NEA Big Read. From September 2021 to June 2022, our community will celebrate The Call of the Wild by Jack London with a full calendar of events including book club discussions for teens and adults, an author event with Lucinda Schroeder, photo and poetry contests, and in-depth discussions about wolves and their impact on the local ecosystems. We will also have programs for kids and families, such as Karen Land visiting to talk about her sled dog racing career, the Montrose Historical Museum stopping by to demonstrate gold panning and jobs from the 1850’s, and a ranger-led hike at the Black Canyon.

Look for more information on the Montrose Library website at www.montroselibrary.org or our Facebook page @MontroseRegionalLibrary.

Banned Books Week:
September 26-October 2

Sunday, September 26 marks the beginning of Banned Books Week. The theme chosen for this year is "Books Unite Us. Censorship Divides Us."

What is Banned Books Week?

According to the Banned Books Week Coalition, "Banned Books Week brings together the entire book community — librarians, booksellers, publishers, journalists, teachers, and readers of all types — in shared support of the freedom to seek and to express ideas, even those some consider unorthodox or unpopular."

The American Library Association supports this effort “to teach the importance of our First Amendment rights and the power of literature, and to draw attention to the danger that exists when restraints are imposed on the availability of information in a free society.”

While the library is committed to your freedom to read what you choose to read, we also welcome your feedback on materials that you find objectionable or inappropriate. You have the right to formally challenge an item in the library by completing a form explaining your concerns and what action you think should be taken. Challenged items are reviewed thoroughly by the Library Director, with a response given within one week of the date that your challenge is received. In some cases, the best solution is to relocate the item to a different collection within the library.

Find more about your freedom to read on page 3.
Montrose Welcomes New Librarians, Molly, Addy, and Nancy

Hi, I’m Molly Benson, one of the newest Youth Services librarians at the Montrose Regional Library. I’m originally from Southern Utah, but came here from Seattle, WA with my dog, Trudy, and a few too many boxes of books. It has been a circuitous route to get here. Before even considering librarianship, I spent many years in the world of film—the Seattle International Film Festival and Milwaukee Film Festival—and live performance organizations, from a tiny children’s production of The Tempest at Stone Soup Theatre to symphony orchestras at Town Hall Seattle. In a rather unexpected turn of events, I returned to my hometown to teach at the local elementary school in 2016. While I was there I uncovered a passion for improving the school library and supporting self-directed exploration and discovery. After completing an MLIS at the University of Washington, I’m happy to be back on the Colorado Plateau and am looking forward to doing some exploring of my own.

Hi everyone! My name is Addy Ascencio and I am a new librarian in the Adult Services department. I was born in Los Angeles, California and later moved to Las Vegas, Nevada when I was eight years old. Growing up in the desert, I found that my favorite place of solace was the library, where I’d spend my summers (a much needed reprieve from the sun!) tucked away in a corner of the YA room. My love of reading led me to pursue a B.A. in English Literature at the University of Las Vegas, Nevada. It was during my time in college that I began to see that a library was more than just a place that housed books—it was a safe space to be yourself, a place to build community and foster lifelong learning. When I saw the job ad for the Montrose Regional Library, I was so ecstatic to see how this library is the heart of the community, and it’s what made me apply to join the incredible staff and be part of a wonderful community. After completing my Masters of Library and Information Science at the University of Washington, I packed up my life in Seattle and moved to the Western Slope. When I’m not reading, you can find me trying new crafts like needle felting or watching the latest scary movies.

I’m Nancy Nightingale, I work as a Youth Services Librarian here at MRLD. I was born in Massachusetts but grew up in California in Los Angeles. I am one of 4 kids, I have a twin brother, as well as a little brother in 3rd grade and another about pre-school age which made me want to go into children’s librarianship. I did my undergrad at Washington State University in Pullman with a double major in Chinese Language and Culture (no I am not fluent at all) and History, and just completed my Master’s in Library and Information Science at the University of Washington - Seattle. I was working as a dyslexia tutor at an elementary school in Kentuckey before coming here. I chose to work at Montrose because I missed living in the desert and I liked the idea of living and working in a smaller community where the impact the library has is noticeable. I have a rat terrier mix named Butter, she’s five, and she’s the center of the universe.
From the Director: Building Projects Underway, In-Person Programs to Return

Later in the fall you will see newly upholstered window seats and chairs. This project will happen bit by bit and should be completed by the end of the year. Also in the late fall or early winter, the Montrose Regional Library will be able to install new carpeting at the facility.

The next major project is to plan for replacing the HVAC system. These are only the larger projects; it is amazing all there is to do to maintain a 41,000 sq. ft. building.

It is hard to believe the “new” Montrose library is 23 years old, but things wear out in 23 years. All of these things were made possible by the mill levy increase voters approved in 2017. That increase was designed to sunset in 10 years—hard to believe it is half over.

The District is beginning in-person programming this fall while still keeping an eye out due to the emergence of the Delta Variant of Covid-19. You will see staff continue to wear masks as we are around the vulnerable populations of children under 12 who can not be vaccinated as well as elderly people. The District continues to urge but not require you to wear masks in our facilities to protect these populations.

We continue to offer home delivery and curbside services as well as a great deal of online services. There is always a great deal happening at your libraries. Come check us out in person or online.

Freedom to Read Statement

The freedom to read is guaranteed by the Constitution. Those with faith in free people will stand firm on these constitutional guarantees of essential rights and will exercise the responsibilities that accompany these rights.

We therefore affirm these propositions:

1. It is in the public interest for publishers and librarians to make available the widest diversity of views and expressions, including those that are unorthodox, unpopular, or considered dangerous by the majority.

2. Publishers, librarians, and booksellers do not need to endorse every idea or presentation they make available. It would conflict with the public interest for them to establish their own political, moral, or aesthetic views as a standard for determining what should be published or circulated.

3. It is contrary to the public interest for publishers or librarians to bar access to writings on the basis of the personal history or political affiliations of the author.

4. There is no place in our society for efforts to coerce the taste of others, to confine adults to the reading matter deemed suitable for adolescents, or to inhibit the efforts of writers to achieve artistic expression.

5. It is in the public interest to force a reader to accept the prejudgment of a label characterizing any expression or its author as subversive or dangerous.

6. It is the responsibility of publishers and librarians, as guardians of the people’s freedom to read, to contest encroachments upon that freedom by individuals or groups seeking to impose their own standards or tastes upon the community at large; and by the government whenever it seeks to reduce or deny public access to public information.

7. It is the responsibility of publishers and librarians to give full meaning to the freedom to read by providing books that enrich the quality and diversity of thought and expression. By the exercise of this affirmative responsibility, they can demonstrate that the answer to a “bad” book is a good one, the answer to a “bad” idea is a good one.

We state these propositions neither lightly nor as easy generalizations. We here stake out a lofty claim for the value of the written word. We do so because we believe that it is possessed of enormous variety and usefulness, worthy of cherishing and keeping free. We realize that the application of these propositions may mean the dissemination of ideas and manners of expression that are repugnant to many persons. We do not state these propositions in the comfortable belief that what people read is unimportant. We believe rather that what people read is deeply important; that ideas can be dangerous; but that the suppression of ideas is fatal to a democratic society. Freedom itself is a dangerous way of life, but it is ours.

Teen & Adult Programming Plans for this Fall

by Sara Rinne, Head of Adult Services

Fall is in the air, and we have been busy all summer planning a full and exciting slate of programs for teens and grown-ups to welcome the new season!

In preparation for the harvest season, we have planned a monthly cooking series. Each month, a nutritional expert will demonstrate a variety of dishes using fresh and healthy ingredients, as well as introducing useful cooking techniques. The same cooking demonstrations will take place twice per month – once in English and once in Spanish. Then, participants are invited to create dishes for a companion group potluck! The cooking classes will take place at Sharing Ministries, in their state-of-the-art commercial kitchen, and the potluck gatherings will take place at MADA’s community room. Check out the library’s events calendar, or email Taylor at tevans@montroselibrary.org for more information and to sign up for these fun and tasty monthly programs!

The Library’s Book Club continues to thrive! Every year at the August meeting, the book club meets to decide on its book selections for the upcoming year. This year brings another exciting collection of interesting and varied reads – everything from classics like Frankenstein by Mary Shelley to bestsellers like The Midnight Library by Matt Haig, and even includes nonfiction this year by authors such as David Attenborough and Elizabeth Letts. The book club meets the first Saturday of every month at 9:00 a.m., and new members are always welcome!

In continuing with literary themed programming, we will be hosting local poet Beth Paulson for a reading from her new collection, Luminous, as well as a poetry-writing workshop on Wednesday, November 10th. Paulson draws inspiration for many of her poems from the natural world, and in 2019 she was named Ouray County’s first Poet Laureate. Paulson taught English for over 20 years at California State University – Los Angeles, and her work has been nominated for many prizes and appeared in numerous literary magazines and journals. This reading and workshop is not to be missed! Email Sara at srinne@montroselibrary.org for more information.

For Teens, we are continuing the popular Teen(ish) book club, and Teen Trivia programs this fall. Be sure to sign up for Teen Trivia on Wednesday, September 15th, as the Teen team will take on the Librarians! This year, the Librarians will be defending their title! Teen trivia programs will take place monthly, so be sure to sign up and test your knowledge of all things trivial! The Teen(ish) book club takes place every month, and explores a great selection of titles. The first 15 teens and tweens who participate in the book club receive a FREE copy of the book, so all the more reason to sign up!

The Teen Advisory Board is the group who weighs in on teen programs, teen spaces, and all other things “teen” at the library, so if you’re interested in joining that group, or in any Teen programs, be sure to reach out to Amy at adickinson@montroselibrary.org.

Finally, as Hispanic Heritage Month is just around the corner, be sure to keep your eye on the library for book displays, resources, and programs throughout the months of September and October!

We are thrilled to be able to bring such a full and engaging programming calendar to our community this fall. As of now, all programs (unless otherwise noted) will take place in-person. However, all of our programs are able to be adapted to a virtual format, should the need arise. We would love to answer any questions for you about any of our programs! Feel free to email anyone listed above, or reach out to us by phone at the Reference Desk – 970-249-9656, ext 3.

Want to talk books? Like fantasy?

Join us for Teen(ish) Book Club on Wednesday, September 29, at 4 p.m. in the library’s meeting room. Ages 12-18 welcome.

For September, we’ll be reading The Gilded Ones by Namina Forna. Register at https://bit.ly/mrlteens or by emailing Amy at adickinson@montroselibrary.org or by emailing Amy at adickinson@montroselibrary.org

The first 15 registrants get a free copy of the book. Only five copies remain so sign up ASAP! **

About Naturita Community Library

Naturita Community Library is a branch of the Montrose Library Regional District. Once located at the Naturita Park in a 500 square foot building, the library is now on Main Street in a 4,400 square foot straw bale, geothermal facility. The grand opening celebration in August of 2009 was supported by 400 plus people in the community and beyond. An updated collection of books and multimedia has served the library well, increasing circulation since opening the door to the new building by 140 percent.

The staff is helpful and happy. Susan Rice, Library Coordinator; Raena Wedel, Circulation Clerk, and Cliff Allred, Circulation Clerk, are friendly and always glad to be of assistance.

Technology is a number one priority for the Montrose Regional Library District. The Naturita branch has a bank of five public computers, a laptop computer center of seven computers and a two computer laptop lab dedicated to patrons connected to the Colorado Work Force.

The library has won three very special awards. First, in 2010 NCL won “Best Project” award from the Colorado Association of Libraries. This award featured the building project along with the great programming the staff brings to the building project. The second award, “The Best Small Library In America” 2011 was granted by the Library Journal and the Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation for excellence in programming, bringing the world to patrons through technology and collaboration with community organization and other libraries. In 2012, the Library was honored with a National Medal, awarded to just five libraries annually, in a ceremony at the White House.

If you haven’t been in the library, please come in and meet the staff and enjoy an atmosphere of learning, connecting and fun.

Interested in Encouraging Reading in Our Community?

The Literature for Life Scholarship encourages the reading of great literature and thinking seriously about its content. With a $500,000 endowment, the Foundation will perpetually offer one new scholarship each year to a deserving recipient. Each award will be $5,000 per year for four years.

Would you help us establish this endowment so doors of opportunity can be opened year after year for Montrose students to pursue their dreams?

$2,500 will perpetually endow one month of scholarship for a young Montrose reader. This may be donated in lump sum or at a rate of $52/month for four years. $625 will endow one week of scholarship. This too may be funded in lump sum or at a rate of $26/month for 2 years.

We look forward to joining with you in duplicating the success of the Permanent Book Funds, laying another brick in the foundation of a bright future for our community.

Naturita Book Club Meets September 21

by Cliff Allred

The Naturita Community Library’s Book Club is starting back up on September 21st at 12:30 pm. The book for the month will be Double Wide, by Leo M. Banks.

Double Wide is the story of disgraced baseball player Prospero Stark, who’s living in self-imposed exile as the “mayor” of a collection of misfits in the Sonoran Desert. Trouble comes to find him, courtesy of the Mexican cartels, and he finds himself drawn into both the drug trade and the seedy underbelly of professional baseball.
