Explore ‘Oceans of Possibilities’ at Your Library This Summer

It may be hard to imagine, living a mile high above sea level, but 71 percent of the Earth’s surface is covered with water. From the frozen Arctic Ocean to the steamy Tropics, water defines life on our planet.

This summer, your library invites you on an adventure exploring the endless depths of knowledge and your own imagination with our summer theme, “Oceans of Possibilities.”

Our ship leaves port June 1, with all sorts of adventures planned along the way for all ages.

For the kids, our favorite jolly pirate Ann Lincoln will show how reading made it possible for her to do magic and juggling, and we’ll spend a whole day at dock with author and illustrator Nathan Hale.

For teens, we’ll have a Camping 101 workshop, a watercolor class with artist Anne Hockenberry and learn about the aquatic ecosystem of the Uncompahgre River. Oh, and the “Lights Out at the Library!” celebration is making a return in August!

For adults, we will explore fly-fishing, learn about the history of the Gunnison Tunnel, and have a family bike ride event, “Rollin’ on the River” July 23.

Are you ready to get signed up for your summer reading adventure? Find your online registration link -- just turn to page 3 for the Adult Summer Reading link, page 4 for kids under age 11, and page 5 for teens age 12-18. Naturita and Paradox updates are on page 7. And did I mention the MRLD Bookmobile is back? Turn to page 6 for more!

NEA Big Read Wraps up with “Puppy Palooza” June 4

The National Endowment for the Arts Big Read Grant is winding down with one last program to engage and entertain the community. After nine months of programs, which included special author discussions, radio show presentations, book clubs, live animal shows, and hikes as well as poetry and picture contests, we close this grant with an homage to our beloved canine companions.

Puppy Palooza will take place on Saturday, June 4 from 11:00am to 1:00pm. The Montrose Library will host all things dog—groomers, trainers, agility demonstrations, story times, contests, pet parades, and informational booths. All this and more will be available through local vendors and organizations on hand to provide services and short educational bursts of fun and learning. In addition, we will have music, food/treats (for human and dog), door prizes, face painting, crafts, and free books for the kids while supplies last.

Some of our long time collaborating organizations that have helped with many of the programs in the past year will be there too, so please be sure to stop by and say thanks. They will include Chow Down, Morningstar Therapy Dogs, Second Chance Humane Society, CSU Tri-River Extension Office and local 4-H Chapter, the Ute Indian Museum, Dooler Pet Grooming, Golden Heart Canine, Cherry Creek Media, and more.

We hope to see you here at the Library on the east lawn on June 4. Well-behaved dogs (and patrons) are welcome! NEA Big Read is a program of the National Endowment for the Arts in partnership with Arts Midwest.
We ♥ Our Volunteers

By Addy Ascencio,
Adult Services Librarian

National Volunteer Week occurs annually in the third week of April. This year, we celebrated and gave heartfelt thanks to our library volunteers from April 17th - 23rd with beautiful plants from San Juan Gardens. As a new(ish) librarian, I am absolutely amazed at how much our volunteers mean to us and how much they do for us. We wouldn’t be the organization we are without their steady presence, care, support, and time.

As a patron, you may have seen our volunteers out in the stacks, shelving carts of books. I recently found out that we see an average of 11,000 books returned a month. THAT IS A LOT OF BOOKS! Without our shelving volunteers we would be drowning in a sea of books, unable to get these same books to a new pair of hands in a timely manner. How fast they shelve is truly magic! If you were to ask me to do it, it would take me a whole afternoon!

(Okay, enough of me, let’s get back to our volunteers.)

Or maybe you’ve run into a volunteer at our seasonal library book sales, which are organized by our Friends of the Library (FOL) board, members, and volunteers. Our FOL volunteers also sort the donations that come into the library every day. Hundreds of books pass through the library and they all get sorted by our Friends to either a seasonal book sale or to our seasonal book sale. The money made from the book sale goes directly back to the library for programming expenses like author talks, summer reading, and more! Then, there is our Teen Advisory Board (TAB), composed of 13(ish) to 18(ish) year-olds who help run teen programs, summer reading, and more! TAB recently redesigned our Teen Space, which has been the talk of our library staff (we all want to live in there). If you haven’t seen the new Teen Space, come by and check it out.

We also have what I call Behind the Scenes Volunteers, more formally known as CORPS volunteers. CORPS volunteers help us repair books that have been hurt in the wild (it’s okay … it happens), cover books in plastic for extra protection, put on spine labels, and mark each book, if applicable, with colored tapes that differentiate where the book is located in the library. If you’ve ever wondered how a book gets on our shelves, what CORPS volunteers do is part of that process.

Lastly, we have our Library District Board of Trustees, who dedicate their time taking care of our library, staff, and community. Our Library Board has monthly meetings open to the public on the first Monday of the month and topics may range from incorporating new library policies to determining budgets to responding to community input and much more.

If you’re interested in volunteering (after you’ve read this glowing and exceptional praise of our volunteers), we are always accepting applications! Our volunteer needs and available positions may change over time so you can always check in with us. You can pick up an application at one of our front desks or email Taylor at tevan@montroselibrary.org for more information.

Ready to Set Sail on a Reading Adventure This Summer?
by Sara Rinne, Head of Adult Services

Can you feel it? The days stretch longer, leaving wonderful hours at the end of the work day for playing outside. The temperature is rising, and the car’s ice scraper can go back to its storage place in the garage. Birds are busily building their nests and chirping happily in the mornings. Spring is here! And that means summer isn’t far behind!

Summer in the library is an exciting time. We plan for our summer reading activities all year long, so that our schedule is full of engaging programs, prizes, and lots of opportunities for readers of all ages to discover books, share ideas and engage with the library and one another. This summer is especially exciting because it is the first summer reading program since the beginning of the COVID pandemic that we get to plan in-person programs and return to hosting events in the library. Our staff’s enthusiasm will be evident when you learn what we have in store!

This summer’s Adult Summer Reading Program is called “Sail Away with a Good Book” which has opened up so many opportunities to plan engaging programs for our grown-up readers. Adults (that’s everyone over the age of 18, or beyond High School) can sign up to participate in the Summer Reading Program beginning June 1. You can sign up at the reference desk in the library or online at: https://bit.ly/asrp2022. After you’ve registered, be sure to come by the reference desk to pick up your welcome package and free book!

Between June 1 and July 31, participants can log their reading and submit book reviews at https://bit.ly/2022asrbookreview. Every review submitted will earn you an entry into the prize giveaway of your choice. In addition to earning prizes for reading books, participants will earn additional chances to win prizes by attending one of our water-themed programs for adults over the summer.

On June 17th, the Library and Colorado Parks and Wildlife will be hosting a fly-casting workshop from 10am to 1pm at Cerise Park. This will be an opportunity for novice anglers to learn basic casting techniques as well as knots needed for flyfishing. We will also discuss the gear needed to get you started. Space is limited so be sure to sign up for this program when registration opens. Fly rods and reels will be provided. Of course, flyfishing can’t be successful without flies! A representative from the Colorado Canyons Association will be hosting a fly-tying workshop at the library on Friday, June 24 from 6-8 pm. This will be a wonderful opportunity to tie an actual fly that you can use on the river to snag a brown or a rainbow! Again, space and supplies will be limited so be sure to sign up as soon as possible.

In partnership with Montrose County, the library is hosting an event at Friendship Hall called “Let’s Talk About Water” on Saturday, July 9 from 9am to 2pm. This event will include a presentation on the Gunnison Tunnel, a panel discussion about water conservation, and a Q&A session for audience members. The focus of this event will be on our most precious resource, and on tangible steps we can all take in order to protect and conserve water in our everyday lives. Be sure to mark your calendars for this informative event.

All summer long the library is sponsoring a “One Summer, One Book” event. The title we have chosen, in keeping with our water theme, is The Feather Thief by Kirk W. Johnson. The first 50 participants will receive a free copy of the book. Copies of the book are also available to check out from the Library as well as Marmot. There will be a discussion of this amazing true story on July 13th.

And last but not least, families and participants of all ages can join us for “Rollin’ on the River” – a family bike ride on the Connect Trail on Saturday, July 23rd.

You may have noticed that the library has a much larger social media presence lately! Be sure to follow us on Facebook for information and news about library events, and on Instagram, Twitter, and Tik Tok for fun and engaging content and information! You can also follow the library on Spotify, where you can check out our librarians’ summer reading playlists and podcast recommendations. And of course, be sure to check our website at www.montroselibrary.org for registration links and updates.

We are thrilled to welcome not just adult Summer Reading participants, but readers of all ages back to the library this summer! We hope you will find some fun new ways to engage with the library, with other community members, and with books during the summer months. We hope you will join us and “Sail Away with a Good Book!”
Summers are almost here and it is all about water! Are you ready to dive into some fun?

Registration starts June 1 for all ages.

- Programs!
- Swag!
- Awesome performers!
- Complete challenges to earn free books!

For the full calendar of events, turn to the back page of this newsletter. Find individual program flyers at the library or call us at 970-249-9656, Option 2. And watch for more information on our website and social media.

Acclaimed Author & Illustrator Nathan Hale Comes to Montrose, June 22

_by James Stetson, Youth Services Librarian_

Summer Library Programs are back! We have events planned for patrons of all ages to enjoy beginning June 1st. There will be story times, art, science, demonstrations, guest speakers and presenters. So many activities await you that you’re sure to find literary inspiration!

This summer, the Montrose Regional Library is thrilled to bring you a titan of literature. You might know some of his works like One Dead Spy, Big Bad Ironclad or Donner Dinner Party. With his talented artwork and comical wit, New York Times best-selling author and graphic novelist Nathan Hale, will share his love of reading & history with you! Make time on June 22nd to enjoy one of several programs he has to offer.

Families with preschoolers and older kids can participate in different ways. For preschool-aged kids up through second graders, he offers a short, silly cartooning program where he teaches how to draw different characters using simple shape methods.

Third and fourth grade students can enjoy an annotated version of his classic American history program. In those he draws on a digital device while telling you a story reserved exclusively for in-person events and not found in any of his published books.

Then, he’ll provide a pair of history programs for fifth grade and older audiences similar in content to his graphic novels, so not for little kids! You’ll hear one of two special stories from our nation’s past as only Mr. Hale can tell them, full of humor, sarcasm and a touch of the macabre.

Does your child like to draw cartoons or comics? In that case, there will be cartooning workshops where third graders and up can learn art strategies from a comic master! Join Mr. Hale in a 30 minute session designed to give kids the basics of cartooning and a few tricks that he likes to use when creating content.

Are these events open to folks who don’t have kids? Absolutely! Adults are encouraged to attend one of the late afternoon or evening programs while the morning and midday events are designed for younger children and families.

It’s not every day that Montrose gets world-reknowned celebrities stopping by, so ask a Youth Services librarian for more information or just show up, sit back and enjoy. We’ll see you then!
Sail Away with Teen Summer Programs & Prizes

by Amy Dickinson, Teen Services Librarian

The best things about summer, in my opinion, are the way the air feels in the morning, the return of the hummingbirds, camping in the mountains, and the Teen Summer Reading Program (TSRP). Because who doesn’t want to pick out a free book for the long days of June and July? Starting June 1 and intended for ages 12(ish) to 17(ish), teens can register to participate at https://bit.ly/tsrp2022. Upon registration, participants will pick up their swag-filled TSRP book browsing bag and choose their free new book at the library. (Yes, we will have plenty of copies of A Court of Thorns and Roses.)

Teens are invited to submit brief book reviews throughout the summer, either in person at the library or online at https://bit.ly/2022tsrpbookreview. Each book review earns the reader an entry into the end-of-summer grand prize raffle of their choosing. The Teen Advisory Board built three prize packages – the Book Nerd Prize Pack, the Mystery Prize Pack, and the Writer/Creator Prize Pack – all filled with an assortment of surprises.

Perhaps best of all? The library is bringing back its famous Lights Out at the Library celebration for TSRP participants on Friday, August 5. Every TSRP participant who submits six or more book reviews will receive an extra grand prize raffle entry for every program they attend.

- On Saturday, June 18, from 9:30-11am, the Colorado Canyons Association will lead a Camping 101 workshop at Riverbottom Park. Primarily for ages 11(ish) to 17(ish), participants will learn the basics of camping for all skill levels through games, relay races, and even some camp dessert. Interested adult family members are welcome to attend.

- The Teen(ish) Book Club reconvenes on Wednesday, June 15, from 4-5pm in the library meeting room to discuss We Were Liars by E. Lockhart, a suspense novel set on an island off Cape Cod as a group of friends and family attempts to figure out what happened one mysterious summer. All book club participants receive a free copy of the book, so sign up ASAP to get reading. Newcomers welcome!

- As the summer edition of the Teen(ish) Maker Series, artist Anne Hockenberry will lead a watercolor workshop for ages 11(ish) to 17(ish) on Saturday, June 25, from 1-2pm in the library’s meeting room. (A workshop for younger artists occurs at 11am.) All supplies provided, and no experience in watercolor or art necessary.

- Scientists, science-curious, outdoor enthusiasts, and just plain curious, this is for you! Discover the Aquatic Ecosystem: a Community Profile of the Uncompahgre River takes place on Thursday, July 14, from 9am-1pm at Outer Range. Science teacher Doug Eccher and Outer Range outdoor education staff will lead participants through a morning in the life of an aquatic biologist. With stations dedicated to water quality assessment, invertebrate studies, drift nets, stream flow analysis, and fly fishing, participants will get a sense of river health, a chance to work as aquatic biologists, and their feet wet (literally, as we’ll be IN the river). For ages 9(ish) to 17(ish). The data collected will be displayed at the Montrose Library and Outer Range.

So, maybe you like to read, paint, collect data, splash in the river, set up tents, eat snacks, play Hide n’ Seek, or write – or maybe you don’t know if you like any of these and want to try. Either way, whoever you are, we hope you’ll join us for some or all of the Teen Summer Reading Program. It promises to be an adventure.

Teen Advisory Board

Calling all teens! Come join us at the library June 1st at 6 PM!

The Montrose Library’s Teen Advisory Board is chance to connect and influence decision-making in the library! TAB is a good way to accumulate volunteer hours, beef up your resume, and meet other bookish teens. Attendance at all meetings is not mandatory – come to as many as you can.

Email Amy D at adickinson@montroselibrary.org or text her at 970-275-9383 for info on how to join.

Book Club Continues This Summer

by Cliff Allred, Library Assistant

Due to popular demand, we are continuing the book club through the summer! We are still growing, with a new person joining just last month. The next meeting will be on Thursday, May 26th, in which we’ll be discussing Braiding Sweetgrass by Robin Wall Kimmerer. The general format is a light lunch (including dessert!), followed by discussion questions. The book for June will likely be The Lost Apothecary, by Sarah Penner.

Book recommendations are welcome, as the summer months will likely eat through the backlog we built up during Covid.

Paradox Branch Announces New Librarian

Raena Wedel, Library Assistant

We are excited to introduce the new librarian for the Paradox Valley Library Branch, Eleasha Burbridge! Eleasha has worked hard, since being hired in January 2022, to cleaned up, organized and decorated the library so that it is open and welcoming for all ages. Eleasha plans to do a summer reading program and a few other programs that are still in the works. The Paradox Valley Library will be open every Friday from 9:30 am to 1:30 pm and one other day every other week but she has not settled on what day of the week will best meet her community needs.
